

Wednesday, March 31, 2004

HACU's Summit on Diversity
A Special Post-Capitol Forum Event Hosted By The George Washington University
Sponsored by General Motors

All "Summit for Diversity" Events Take Place at: The George Washington University
The Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, NW Washington, DC 20052

8:00 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.      Opening Breakfast Session      Continental Ballroom

“Embracing Diversity on Campus and in Our Communities”

Rapidly changing demographics and recent affirmative action court rulings are creating new opportunities to address diversity as a priority for the nation and the Hispanic higher education community. This inspiring opening session provides an overview of challenges facing higher education and issues of importance to our Hispanic communities.

Welcoming Remarks:      Antonio Flores, HACU President and CEO
Welcoming Remarks:      Stephen Joel Trachtenberg, President, The George Washington University
Opening Remarks:      Mary Hatwood Futrell, Dean, Graduate School of Education and Human Development
The George Washington University
Keynote Remarks:      Paul Courant, Provost, University of Michigan

9:45 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.      Break      Continental Ballroom

10:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon      Morning Panel Session      Continental Ballroom

“Diversity and the Supreme Court: Ruling and Realities”

This thought-provoking session addresses the latest issues and new challenges for Hispanic higher education in the wake of Supreme Court rulings on the University of Michigan cases, and the new realities for higher education admissions policies, student programs, and diversity initiatives.

Moderator:      Manuel Pacheco, President Emeritus, University of Missouri System
Keynote Speaker:      Marta Brito Pérez, U.S. Office of Personnel and Management
Panelist:      William Kirwan, Chancellor University System of Maryland
Panelist:      Marisa Demeo, Regional Counsel, MALDEF, Washington, and D.C
Panelist:      Roderick Gillum, Vice President of Public Policy and Diversity Initiatives, General Motors Corporation

12:15 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.      Closing Luncheon Session      Continental Ballroom

“Proactive Approach to Diversity”

Can the Hispanic higher education community respond proactively to continuing diversity challenges? This session will address the new responsibilities for the higher education arena to promote diversity as essential to the future success of America as a nation and as a global leader.

Moderator:      HACU President and CEO Antonio R. Flores
Sponsor Remarks:      Roderick Gillum, Vice President of Public Policy and Diversity Initiatives, General Motors Corporation and Chairman, General Motors Foundation.
Keynote Speaker:      Mark Yudof, Chancellor, The University of Texas System
Closing Remarks:      Antonio R. Flores, HACU President and CEO