Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities

For over thirty years, the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities (HACU) has advocated on behalf of Hispanic higher education in the U.S. and around the world.

The mission of the association is to Champion Hispanic Success in Higher Education. HACU fulfills its mission by: promoting the development of member colleges and universities; improving access to and the quality of postsecondary educational opportunities for Hispanic students; and meeting the needs of business, industry and government through the development and sharing of resources, information and expertise.

HACU is the only organization that represents existing and emerging Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs). HSIs today represent 13 percent of all institutions of higher education that enroll 62 percent of Hispanic undergraduates.

HACU serves its membership through advocacy, conferences, partnerships and educational programs, and offers scholarships and internship opportunities for students.

HACU, is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) association with a membership of more than 470 colleges and universities in the U.S., Puerto Rico, Latin America and Spain. HACU’s headquarters are located in San Antonio, Texas, and regional offices are in Washington, D.C., and Sacramento, California.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT/CEO AND CHAIR OF THE GOVERNING BOARD

The Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities (HACU) celebrated its 30th anniversary during our 2016 Annual Conference held in San Antonio, Texas, HACU’s birthplace. We look forward now to continuing our mission of championing Hispanic higher education success, mindful of the support of our members, sponsors and friends over the decades and equally mindful of the work that still needs to be done.

As the number of Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSI) grows along with the burgeoning student population, equitable funding for the growing HSI community becomes an ever more pressing issue. Adequate resources must be made readily available so all students can succeed and successfully enter the workforce of tomorrow. Hispanics are contributing three fourths of the growth of the U.S. labor force in this decade and the country can’t afford to have less than the best educated people laying the groundwork for the future.

HACU’s membership continues to grow, embracing not only Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs), but emerging HSIs approaching the 25% Hispanic enrollment mark, and partner institutions that recognize the trends of the future, as well as our international members and Hispanic-serving school districts. No one understands better than our membership the importance of making the best education available to our Hispanic youth.

HACU takes every opportunity to collaborate and host events that allow us to discuss these important issues regarding our students. HACU led a ground-breaking “U.S., Cuba & Latin America Higher Education Collaboration Symposium,” April 18-19 in Guadalajara, Mexico, to discuss expanding partnerships throughout the Western hemisphere. A “HACU on the Road” at California State University, San Bernardino discussed the state of Hispanic higher education and STEM careers, and paralleled a STEM Summit focused on helping students prepare for careers in science and technology. We continue to host HACU University Tours for promising high school students through a partnership with the U.S. Army, and have begun offering webinars to expand information sharing among educators and administrators.

HACU government relations efforts achieved an increase in the Title V HSI Undergraduate Program appropriation to $107.8 million for Fiscal Year 2016. The continuing stalemate in Washington meant most other HSI programs received only level funding. But we continue our push for including HSIs in every federal educational support opportunity, especially at the National Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health, but also the Departments of Interior, Homeland Security and State, to name just a few.

We continue to put an emphasis on programs that help our institutions do a better job of helping their students succeed. For example, a Student Success Symposium at St. Mary’s University on May 23 brought together approximately 100 invited participants to hear about promising strategies, best practices and resources. HACU was also among 15 organizations partnering with the U.S. Department of Education to host a National Summit on Teacher Diversity, May 6 in Washington, D.C. The Association also joined three other organizations in an NSF-funded project “Germinating
Transformative Climate Change Research through Diversity to promote climate research opportunities for junior faculty and renewed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of State to help increase the diversity of candidates at the Department.

We have been able to provide scholarships and leadership awards thanks to partnerships with exemplary organizations, including the Southwest Airlines Lánzate! Travel awards, Hispanic College Quiz show scholarships, Deloitte’s Jorge Caballero Student Leadership Award, Denny’s Hungry for Education scholarships, new scholarship opportunities from Café Bustelo, Kia Motors, Ford Motor Company Fund, the Oracle Corporation, and an institutional award in partnership with ecoAmerica to California State University, Northridge, for their work in sustainability.

HACU’s largest student program, the HACU National Internship Program (HNIP), continues to place students in internships nationwide with federal sponsors and corporate partners committed to diversifying their workforce.

HACU conferences and events provide organized platforms for sharing Hispanic higher education best practices and resources and opportunities for networking with colleagues across the country and around the world.

HACU’s 21st National Capitol Forum targeted key legislative issues and culminated in state delegations of faculty, staff and students visiting their members of Congress on Capitol Hill.

HACU’s 30th Annual Conference included among its events a pre-conference Youth Leadership Development with a STEM focus held at The University of Texas at San Antonio. The second PreK-12/Higher Education Collaboration Symposium, also a pre-conference event, featured panels with education experts from across the country discussing on-going collaborations between HSIs and the surrounding school districts.

This year the HACU Hall of Champions inducted two outstanding new honorees. Max Castillo, Ed.D., president emeritus of University of Houston-Downtown, was a founding board member of HACU while president at San Antonio College. Congressman Ruben Hinojosa, who retired this year after 20 years of representing the 15th District of Texas, was the leader of Congresswoman Ruben Hinojosa, who retired this year after 20 years of the Hispanic Caucus’s Education Committee and chief advocate for Title V and Hispanic higher education in Congress. It was a privilege for all present to recognize them as champions of Hispanic higher education for their tireless work in building the framework of federal support for HSIs.

These are just a few highlights of the association’s work supported by HACU’s staff from its national headquarters in San Antonio, Texas, and regional offices in Washington, D.C., and Sacramento, California.

We also want to recognize the dedication and vision of the college, university, and corporate leaders that comprise HACU’s Governing Board, including its newly elected officers and members for 2016-17.

New members include:
Maria Harper-Marinick, Ph.D., chancellor of Maricopa County Community College; Sue Henderson, Ph.D., president of New Jersey City University; Carlos M. Padin Bibiloni, Ph.D., chancellor of Universidad Metropolitana; and Andrew Sund, Ph.D., president of St. Augustine College.

HACU 2016-17 officers are:
Chair William V. Flores, Ph.D., provost and associate vice chancellor of Antioch University, Santa Barbara; Vice Chair Félix V. Matos Rodríguez, Ph.D., president of Queens College, CUNY; Treasurer Beatriz T. Espinoza, Ph.D., president of Coastal Bend College; Secretary Monte E. Pérez, Ph.D., president of Los Angeles Mission College; and Immediate Past Chair Tomás D. Morales, Ph.D., president of California State University San Bernadino.

We thank the following individuals who completed their terms on the Board in 2016:
Glen E. Gabert, Ph.D., president, Hudson County Community College; Sharon K. Hahs, Ph.D., president emerita, Northeastern Illinois University; and Jorge Iván Vélez-Arocho, Ph.D., president, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Puerto Rico.

Our sincere thanks to all those individuals and organizations whose support has made it possible for HACU to advance the cause of Hispanic higher education success in 2016 and beyond. There’s room for you too in La HACHE de HACU, the Hispanic Alliance to Champion Higher Education, in which you become part of by contributing to our annual appeal.

HACU’s presence over the years reminds us of the importance of the work we all do daily at our institutions to prepare our students to be the next generation of leaders. It reminds us that there is so much more to be done, so many more students who need just an opportunity offered, encouragement given, or an obstacle removed in order to achieve their full potential. Please help us make Hispanic student access and success a priority by spreading the word on your campuses and throughout your networks. It’s too important to keep it a secret.

Cordially,

Antonio R. Flores

2016 ANNUAL REPORT
ADVOCATING FOR HISPANIC HIGHER EDUCATION

Since the first federal definition of Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs) in 1992, HACU’s advocacy efforts have produced well over $2.8 billion for HSIs and Hispanic higher education. Led by HACU’s Government Relations office in Washington, D.C., 2016 advocacy efforts continued its focus on federal funding for member institutions and other issues critical to them.

Strategic alliances with other minority organizations continue to be significant in promoting a legislative agenda for higher education. Through alliances with minority, higher education and other national Hispanic organizations, Hispanic-Serving Institutions increased their visibility and presence in Congress and with the Administration.

HACU launched an online Advocacy Center to assist education advocates in making their voices heard on public policy issues affecting HSIs and our member colleges and universities. The Advocacy Center at www.HACUAdvocates.net provides tools and resources to communicate easily with lawmakers and their staff.

HACU is an active partner with the Washington Higher Education Secretariat, the National Hispanic Leadership Agenda (NHLA), the Hispanic Education Coalition, the Alliance for Equity in Higher Education (which serves as a unified voice for minority higher education), the Committee for Education Funding, the Coalition for Teaching Quality, the Higher Education Task Force and other national organizations with a focus on education.

Advocacy addressed key pieces of legislation, reaching all levels of Hispanic education and workforce development. In the still ongoing reauthorization process for the Higher Education Act (HEA), HACU called for the creation of a new Minority-Serving Institutions (MSIs) Innovation Fund to expand collaboration between HSIs, create a new allowable use for Title V grants to promote engagement with international institutions and for the inclusion of a demonstrated ability to work with diverse groups of students as part of the definition of profession-ready teachers. HACU worked with colleague organizations to address a regulatory proposal from the Department of Education on teacher preparation. HACU also supported schools of education at HSIs through its involvement in the Department of Education’s Teacher Preparation Summit. Government Relations staff consulted regularly with HACU membership for input on multiple policy topics. As an active co-chair of NHLA’s education committee, HACU also worked closely with NHLA on congressional education strategy.

With the support of members and allies, HACU was successful in preserving and increasing congressional appropriations to Hispanic-Serving Institutions. Appropriations for the Title V Undergraduate Program were increased to $107.8 million for Fiscal Year (FY) 2016. The Graduate Program Part B of Title V of the Higher Education Act (HEA) received $9.7 million for FY 2016 in discretionary funding. As part of the Student Aid and Fiscal Responsibility Act (SAFRA), the HSI STEM and Articulation program continued to receive the mandatory but sequester-reduced $93.2 million in FY 2016 (mandated through FY 2019). Funding for HSIs under Title VII of the Farm Bill remained at $9.2 million for FY 2016.

When this report was written, Congress had yet to finalize 11 of the 12 Fiscal Year (FY) 2017 appropriations bills. The current Continuing Resolution (CR) keeping the federal government temporarily funded is scheduled to expire on April 28, 2017. The expectation is that Congress will extend the FY 2016 appropriation levels through the remainder of the Fiscal Year that ends September 30, 2017.

HACU continued to push for first-time funding for the Hispanic-Serving Agricultural College and University programs under the Farm Bill. HACU successfully advocated for the inclusion of language in the reauthorization of the America Competes Act (S. 3084), requesting that the National Science Foundation award grants to HSIs to enhance the quality of undergraduate STEM programs, and increase the retention and graduation rates of students pursuing associates or baccalaureate degrees in those fields.

HACU monitored and responded to legislative proposals introduced in the Senate and the House of Representatives by promoting specific legislative language favorable to HSIs and the Hispanic community. A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) was signed with the Department of State, and work continues for the renewal of the agreement with the U.S. Agency for International Development. HACU continued to co-coordinate the Leadership Group consisting of key agency officials and HSI presidents for the U.S. Departments of Agriculture. HACU also serves on committees advising the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the U.S. Department of State, and the federal Office of Personnel Management.

HACU’s Western Regional advocacy efforts for member institutions in Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington continue to focus on trying to restore higher education funding to pre-recession state budget levels. HACU also supported higher education legislation in the region’s state legislatures, including their respective DREAM Acts, student financial aid bills and other college access legislation. HACU continued policy meetings with its California membership to develop and refine a proposal to be brought before the California State Legislature during its next legislative cycle.
OPENING DOORS TO A DIVERSE WORKFORCE

HACU is dedicated to increasing Hispanic employment in the federal workforce and corporate America, a demographic which remains underrepresented in these sectors.

For more than 24 years, the HACU National Internship Program has provided college students the opportunity to gain career experience while completing their undergraduate and graduate education.

In 2016, HACU placed 484 students in paid internship assignments in the federal and corporate sectors. Approximately 332 of the total interns were Hispanic students. Women made up more than half of participants with a total of 304. The average grade point of all interns was 3.46 and the average age was 23.7.

Students participating in the program represented colleges and universities from 32 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. The locations with the highest concentration of students participating were from Texas (83), Puerto Rico (94) and California (82).

Students served in 259 federal internships in the Washington, D.C., area, 199 federal field offices throughout the United States, and 26 corporate internships nationwide.

The following represents the number of students serving by semester:

To date, the HACU National Internship Program has provided more than 11,000 internship opportunities to students and has served as a pipeline for Hispanics to careers in the federal government and private sector.

Many students who have benefited from the internship program and other HACU educational programs are now giving back by serving as a resource for student development and alumni advancement through the HACU Alumni Association.

Programs such as the HACU Alumni Ambassadors Program provide support and information to prospective HACU National Internship Program applicants.

INVESTING IN COLLEGE STUDENTS

Restoring America as the first in the world in college graduation rates begins with working with students from high school to college to ensure they have the educational and financial resources needed to pursue and complete their higher education goals.

HACU Scholarship Program
HACU partnerships with corporations have made it possible to award deserving students with the Denny’s Hungry for Education Scholarship, Kia Motors America, Inc. Scholarship, and Café Bustelo El Café del Futuro Scholarship Essay Contest. As a result, HACU awarded 30 scholarships totaling $114,000 to students at HACU-member institutions. An additional $2,500 scholarship was awarded to one student serving as an intern at Sodexo, under the HACU National Corporate Internship Program. Deloitte awarded the Jorge Caballero Student Leadership Award, totaling $10,000. The Ford Motor Company Fund awarded eight $1,000 academic scholarships. This brought the total of scholarships and leadership awards to $134,500. These companies continue to make a difference by investing in today’s college students to ensure an educated workforce for the future of our country.

HACU STEM Summit
A HACU STEM Summit was hosted to provide workshops to prepare Latino students for corporate internships and jobs in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields. The Summit offered 85 university students the opportunity to meet with STEM professionals and corporate representatives and was held at California State University, San Bernardino on April 27, 2016. The STEM Summit was sponsored by Coca Cola.

HACU Student Track Scholarships
Approximately 207 students received a HACU Student Track Scholarship to attend HACU’s Annual Conference. 109 of the students were sponsored by HACU and 98 were made possible through 30th Annual Conference sponsorships. Student Track scholar sponsors are listed on page 17.

Hispanic College Quiz
Nine students from HACU-member institutions participated in the Hispanic College Quiz show, which aired nationally in 81 markets during Hispanic Heritage Month. Institutions represented were: Adams State University; Bronx Community College, CUNY; Mount Saint Mary’s University; Oklahoma Panhandle State University; Savannah State University; New Mexico State University; St. Edward’s University; St. Philip’s College; and Texas A&M International University. Scholarships were awarded by the producers of the show, Central City Productions, and sponsor State Farm. Students received a one-time scholarship ranging from $250 to $3,000, according to their placement. The three finalists were also sponsored to attend the Student Track of the Annual Conference where they received check presentations.

HACU/U.S. Army College Tour Program
The HACU/U.S. Army College Tour brought Hispanic high school students to two college campuses to experience campus life, the admissions process and financial aid options. For many students, the tours provided their first college campus visit. A College Tour was hosted at the University of California, Los Angeles, with 700 students from 11 area high schools and 13 counselors among those who visited the campus in February 2016. At the University of Houston, approximately 350 students from 11 high schools and 50 counselors from the Houston-area attended the campus tour that took place in October 2016.

¡Lánzate! Travel Awards
The Dándole Alas a Tu Éxito/Giving Flight to Your Success™ ¡Lánzate! Travel Award Program, sponsored by HACU and Southwest Airlines, was established twelve years ago for college students living away from home to be able to return to their hometown to visit with families. Southwest Airlines ticket vouchers were awarded to 107 college students.
In 2016, the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities (HACU) observed the 30-year milestone of its founding in San Antonio, Texas.

A meeting held at Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, Texas, established the first-ever national association of Hispanic colleges and universities now known as HACU and is recognized as an international force for Hispanic student success across the world. HACU’s U.S. members collectively serve two-thirds of the three million Hispanic students and one-fourth of all students in U.S. higher education. The Association was essential in establishing the Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs) federal designation to better serve the still-growing, college-bound Hispanic population.

HACU’s anniversary was celebrated all year leading up to its 30th Annual Conference in San Antonio, Texas, which drew a record attendance of more than 1,700 participants on Oct. 8-10, 2016.

1. Mayor Ivy Taylor presents a proclamation from the City of San Antonio to HACU President and CEO Antonio R. Flores; 2. HACU officials met with President of Costa Rica, Luis Guillermo Solís Rivera and Costa Rica leaders to discuss higher education; 3. HACU hosted “U.S., Cuba & Latin America Higher Education Collaboration Symposium” in Guadalajara, Jalisco México; 4. HACU Student Success Symposium held at St. Mary's University; 5. HACU, U.S. Department of State sign MOU; 6. Hispanic College Quiz contestants; 7. California State University Northridge selected for the 2016 HACU Solution Generation Climate Leadership Award; 8. HACU unveiled its 30th Anniversary Commemorative Medal as the City of San Antonio, Texas, celebrated its 125th Anniversary of Fiesta on April 14-21

INCREASING THE UNDERSTANDING OF HISPANIC HIGHER EDUCATION

21st National Capitol Forum on Hispanic Higher Education

HACU’s 21st National Capitol Forum on Hispanic Higher Education registered 157 individuals for the event, which took place in Washington, D.C., March 14-15, 2016. The Forum served as an opportunity to advocate for federal legislation and support for Hispanic higher education. Representatives from HACU-member institutions had the opportunity to meet with key members of the House and Senate from during visits to Capitol Hill.

Youth Leadership Development Forum

HACU-member institution The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) was the host site for HACU’s Youth Leadership Development Forum (YLDF) on Oct. 7, 2016. The YLDF, under the theme “Students in STEM – Exploring Your Future: Dream-Learn-Lead,” brought together 513 local students and 29 chaperones to learn how to prepare for college and about future careers in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) fields. Breakout sessions, a STEM exhibitor fair, a luncheon that included student panels and a tour of the UTSA Main Campus were also included as part of the activities.

STEM instructors from the participating schools also received professional development through Education Service Center Region XX. Twenty one instructors participated in a Project Based Learning training session to help develop STEM focused curriculum for their campuses.
HACU’S PREMIER CONFERENCE ON HISPANIC HIGHER EDUCATION

HACU Annual Conference and Student Track

HACU’s 30th Annual Conference, under the theme “30 Years of Championing Hispanic Higher Education Success,” brought a total of 1,720 registrants on Oct. 8-10, 2016, to San Antonio, Texas.

Attendees included representatives from colleges and universities, school districts, public policy organizations, and government, corporate and philanthropic sectors. Of those registered, 527 were undergraduate students participating in the Student Track, which takes place in conjunction with the Annual Conference and offers career and leadership development opportunities.

The Annual Conference featured 55 workshops in a wide range of issues related to the conference theme, with many on topics related to Hispanic-Serving Institutions. A HACU Town Hall, “Income Inequality and Health Disparities Implications for Hispanics and the 2016 Elections” and the International Plenary, “Higher Education and the Environment: Becoming Global Leaders for Sustainable Change,” were among the topics presented during the conference plenaries.

Attendees also made connections with 118 exhibitors that included national and international colleges and universities, federal agencies, major corporations and nonprofit agencies. A College and Career Fair was part of the Exhibitors Hall that was free and open to the public. The fair also offered workshops for college-bound students and their families.
Second PreK-12/ Higher Education Collaboration Symposium

The Pre-K-12 Symposium drew 52 participants to the one-day gathering featuring a panel discussion led by educators that showcased policies and programs with successful outcomes for students leading into college. The event was offered as a pre-conference event of HACU's Annual Conference.

HACU 15th Annual Latino Higher Education Leadership Institute

The annual Latino Higher Education Leadership Institute drew 103 registered participants. The Institute, designed to provide a forum for emerging higher education leaders, included presentations and workshops to discuss challenges and explore strategies for making higher education institutions more responsive to the educational needs of Latinos and other underrepresented groups. The institute was offered as a pre-conference event of HACU's Annual Conference.

HACU Fifth Deans’ Forum on Hispanic Higher Education

The Deans’ Forum on Hispanic Higher Education, “A Dean’s Role in Creating and Sustaining a Culture of Equity and Inclusion,” provided institutional administrators the opportunity to discuss graduate education. Registrants in attendance included 67 participants. The event was offered as a post-conference event of HACU’s Annual Conference.
